EXPERIENCE

Frontend Developer (Full-time)

Since January 2021 AFEX Abuja, Federal Capital Territory, Nigeria

- Translated Figma designs and backend APIs into responsive, maintainable components for Africa Exchange, the company's flagship trading platform.
- Collaborated with cross-functional teams in design and product sessions to define scalable architecture and intuitive user interfaces.
- Actively participated in Agile ceremonies including daily stand-ups, sprint reviews, and retrospectives.
- Led performance optimizations and refactored legacy components to align with evolving business requirements.
- Implemented security best practices across frontend systems to protect against common web vulnerabilities.

Senior Frontend Engineer (Contract)

From April 2024 to December 2024 Helpa Remote

- Collaborated closely with a backend engineer, product designer, and the management team to deliver two robust versions of the company's user and admin healthcare platforms.
- Engineered the system to support distinct workflows for four different user types, ensuring a tailored experience for each.
- Developed a web page setup module for NGO users, enabling them to customize themes and configure modular web features.
- Improved the platform's SEO performance, increasing search visibility and organic reach.
- Built a secure, multi-currency donation flow, integrating various third-party payment gateways to support global contributions.
- Implemented a flexible authentication system using Next.js middleware, allowing role-based access control and activity tracking across the platform.

Integration and Test Engineer (Contract)

March 2022 Klasha Remote

- Developed and tested a checkout page using provided documentation, Figma designs, and API keys, ensuring functional integration and seamless user experience.
- Authored clear and developer-friendly technical documentation to support future implementation and maintenance.
